

I am in favor of a 60 m amateur allocation, but I think that it is very important that separate sub-bands be allocated for CW/Digital and Phone emissions. This is crucial because phone is likely to cause severe interference to other modes.